
ITALIAN SPEAKERS

Carlo Orefice (Università di Siena)

Why we are here? Rethinking Medical Humanities through the Paradigm of Complexity

Lucia Zannini (Università di Milano)

Reflective writing and medical humanities: some pedagogical reflections

Claudia Vinciguerra (Università di Siena)

Is Music useful for the Brain? Updates from research to practice and contrary

Maria Malatesta (Università di Bologna)

The invention of trust. Doctors and patients from the antiquity until today

Rosemarie Heyn (Sapienza Università di Roma)

The art of observation, from visual artworks to medical diagnosis: initial experience at Sapienza University of Rome

ITALIAN DISCUSSANTS

Francesca Bracci (Università della Valle d'Aosta)

Valentina Cappi (Università di Bologna)

Lorenza Garrino (Università di Torino)

Pierpaolo Limone (Università di Foggia)

Alessandra Romano (Università di Siena)

SPANISH SPEAKERS

Josep-E Baños (Universitat Pompeu Fabra)

How could humanities contribute to the training of physicians

Marta Torrens (Universitat Autònoma de Barcelona)

Literature texts as a teaching tool in medical students

Amàlia Lafuente (Universitat de Barcelona)

Teachers and writers: some thoughts from the both sides

Magí Farré (Universitat Autònoma de Barcelona)

Using popular movies in teaching: the case of pharmacology

Albert Presas i Puig (Universitat Pompeu Fabra)

The experience of the history of medicine at the Universitat Pompeu Fabra

SPANISH DISCUSSANTS

Fèlix Bosch (Esteve Foundation and Universitat Pompeu Fabra)

Tamara Djermanovic (Universitat Pompeu Fabra)

Elena Guardiola (Universitat Pompeu Fabra)

Jordi Planes Bassas (CAP Carmel, Barcelona)

Mariano Sentí (Universitat Pompeu Fabra)

Universitat
Pompeu Fabra
Barcelona

WORKSHOP SOFT SKILLS IN MEDICAL EDUCATION: THE ROLE OF MEDICAL HUMANITIES IN THE TWENTY-FIRST CENTURY

CHAIRPERSONS

Carlo Orefice (Università di Siena)

Josep-E Baños (Universitat Pompeu Fabra)

Siena, 8 September 2017

Università di Siena

Rettorato – Sala Consiliare

TIME SCHEDULE

9:00 Welcome

Francesco Frati, Rector of Siena University

Loretta Fabbri, Director of Department of Education, Humanities and Intercultural Communication

9:15-9:30 Preliminary remarks

Carlo Orefice (Università di Siena) & Josep-E Baños (Universitat Pompeu Fabra),

Fèlix Bosch (Esteve Foundation)

9:30-9:50 Carlo Orefice (Università di Siena)

Why we are here? Rethinking medical humanities through the paradigm of complexity

9:50-10:10 Josep-E Baños (Universitat Pompeu Fabra)

How could humanities contribute to a better training of physicians

10:10-10:30 - Open discussion

10:30-11:00 - Coffee break

11:00-11:20 Lucia Zannini (Università di Milano)

Reflective writing and medical humanities: some pedagogical reflections

11:20-11:40 Marta Torrens (Universitat Autònoma de Barcelona)

Literature texts as a teaching tool in medical students

11:40-12:00 Amàlia Lafuente (Universitat de Barcelona)

Teachers and writers: some thoughts from the both sides

12:00-12:30 - Open discussion

12:30-12:50 Claudia Vinciguerra (Università di Siena)

Is Music useful for the Brain? Updates from research to practice and contrary (with Antonio Federico)

12:50-13:10 Magí Farré (Universitat Autònoma de Barcelona)

Using popular movies in teaching: the case of pharmacology

13:10-13:30 - Open discussion

13:30-15:00 - Lunch

15:00-15:20 Maria Malatesta (Università di Bologna)

The invention of truth. Doctors and patients from the antiquity until today

15:20-15:40 Rosemarie Heyn (Sapienza Università di Roma)

The art of observation, from visual artworks to medical diagnosis: initial experience at Sapienza University of Rome

15:40-16:00 Albert Presas i Puig (Universitat Pompeu Fabra)

The experience of the history of medicine at the Universitat Pompeu Fabra

16:00-16:30 - Open discussion

16:30- 17:00 - Coffee break

17:00-17:30 Carlo Orefice & Josep-E Baños

The Master on Medical Humanities: a joint project between Italian and Spanish universities

17:30-18:00 Carlo Orefice & Josep-E Baños

Concluding remarks and farewell

20:30 Dinner

